

NPO OF THE WEEK!

DuBois Douglass Strategies

Strategic Planning | Organizing | Media | Grant Writing

SEAN M. BROWN / DUBOIS DOUGLASS STRATEGIES

June 2, 2020

We at the Nonprofit Development Center of Southern New Jersey are so proud to feature our Young Professional of the Year - Sean Brown - as our NPO partner of the week.

Sean is one of the 2020 recipients at our Annual Non-Profit Organization Awards Celebration Dinner, which will be held in October. We are recognizing his staunch commitment to the community and most especially, to the citizens of Camden City. Sean is the CEO of DuBois Douglass Strategies, which supports grant writing and strategic planning for grassroots organizations and small non-profits.

This role has grown out of his efforts in Camden as a community organizer and policy analyst, specializing in community development, local government, non-profit communications, and public and higher education reform. Just this past weekend Sean joined with fellow Camden residents and peacefully walked in solidarity through the City. Sean also held an insightful interview with the Camden County Chief of Police as they discussed the positive and united efforts of clergy, residents and police throughout this unsettling time.

Please join us in congratulating Sean on his exceptional work as a NPO Young Professional in South Jersey!